THE IDEA

- “I KNOW A LIKE THAT” explores the unexpectedly vigorous activities and philosophies of women in the upper decades of their lives. It will illustrate for its wide audience the drive, personality, and characteristics which motivates and keeps these women engaged at a time in their lives when society expects them to slow their lives to a crawl.
- Through one-on-one interviews and footage of their energetic activities, the women in our documentary reveal the energy, curiosity, and personal drive which has kept them emotionally, physically, sexually, and intellectually provocative in their 60's, 70's, 80's, and beyond.

Dame Judi Dench, 72
Actress

"People say to me all the time, 'Why don't you stop? Why don't you slow down?' Dench throws the question back. "Why should I? Why? Perhaps they're people who don't do what they like, as if their job is some drudge. Somebody got quite irritated with me and said, 'Why on earth aren't you taking it easy?' "

Dame Judi Dench

She pauses, and then smiles, turning the question in her head. "Why?

- The rise in life expectancy is due to astounding advances in medicine, as well as new age alternatives for living longer, staying healthy, and remaining active.
- What does this mean for the passage of time? Will it be normal for women to start a new career at 60? Will it be more common for women to decide to have children much later in life?

Taking Manhattan

Elaine Madsen, 74

Emmy Award Winning Director

“What these decades mean to me, is that they can not, must not be squandered. Time has a very different meaning now....I believe that I will not be old until I run out of questions. I’ve lived, wept, failed, and reinvented myself more times than I knew I could.”

No one is surprised that baby boomers are athletically approaching their sixties. What the audience will find genuinely surprising is that those baby boomers were preceded by a generation of women who were ahead of their time. Adept at multi-tasking before it had a name, they were in the vanguard of the quest for civil rights and equal rights for women. And they have been reinventing themselves ever since!!!

- Donahue has walked in the worlds of city politics and community activism, each with its own divisions and egos. Yet she has succeeded by bringing together unlikely coalitions of bankers, City Hall operatives, immigrants, and clergy to achieve projects...Los Angeles Times

One should never say... When I was young.

Jeanne Moreau

Actress / Writer / Director / Producer / Singer

"Don't take care of yourself because you want to stop time. Do it for self-respect. It's an incredible gift, the energy of life. You don't have to be a wreck. You don't have to be sick. One's aim in life should be to die in good health. Just like a candle that burns out". "The life you had is nothing. It is the life you have that is important."

“Life is not better the second time around. I am sure of that. Once is enough for everything. Life is so precious and anyone with sense should know that. I've had excruciating, giddy, heavenly highs and unbearable lows and I've handled both in the long run but don't want to live my life more than once. I'm looking forward to what's left of it, I can tell you that.”
